

SHANNON CANGEY, ACADEMY COORDINATOR

Shannon Cangey first appeared on stage at age six and worked across the country as a professional singer/dancer before joining Nevada Ballet Theatre in 2007. Her training included scholarships to ballet workshops at Butler University's Jordan Academy of Dance, Musical Theatre intensives at Ball State University, ballet with Belinda Stanley of the Royal Ballet, tap with Don Emmons, and workshops at London's National Theatre. She studied Theatre/Dance at Missouri State University, completed her Dance degree at UNLV, and obtained her Master's degree at Regis University in Education, allowing her to teach Secondary Dance, Theatre, and English. Shannon's first love is musical theatre, and her favorite roles include Fiona in Brigadoon, Guenevere in Camelot, Johanna in Sweeney Todd, and performing with Mel Tillis, Rip Taylor, and Debbie Reynolds.
